Open Architecture

PROGRAMME DIRECTOR: OPEN ARCHITECTURE

The South African Institute of Architects is implementing an architecture education unit aligned to participating Schools of Architecture, which is office-based and web-centred, and is aimed at both assisting in the throughput of candidates towards becoming Professional Architects and at the transformation of the architectural profession.

Applications are invited for the post of Programme Director: Open Architecture. The post will initially be a part-time contract appointment with the intention of it becoming full-time in advance of the first semester. The successful candidate will manage the process of setting up the Unit and help drive it through the academic hoops for official recognition. Specified courses will also need to be identified and commissioned from academics. The incumbent will be guided by the established project team. When the impetus builds up an assistant will be employed. Like the digital course itself, this post is not geographically bound.

Minimum Requirement

The successful candidate must have:

- A successful track record of excellence in management.

Desirable Experience

- A Master of Architecture degree (or equivalent) or higher qualification;
- Experience in managing a School of Architecture at a tertiary institution;

Applicants should provide a covering letter together with their C.V., focussing on their suitability for the position and remuneration expectations, and submit these to the following address by the 25 of April 2013:
